surveying work was in progress. Very little uprooting work was observed. It was rumored among the population that an airfield would be constructed in the area bordered by Jocksdorf to the west, Cross-Schackdorf to the north, Raden to the east and Preschen to the south and that Raden would have to be evacuated by the civilian population. A spur track for hauling construction material to the site was under construction. It branched off from the north-south railroad line west of Jocksdorf. *

* [REDACTED] Comment. For location of the villages which border on the alleged airfield site, see Map GSGS 4346, Sheet 052. The construction of a spur track to the construction site indicates that work will probably start soon.
